

Thank you Harvard Schools Trust!

STUDENTS AND STAFF ARE LOVING
THE DESK BICYCLES!

Dear Harvard Schools Trust,

Thank you so much for the grant to purchase two desk bicycles for The Bromfield School Library! The staff and students were very excited to find them in the library at the start of school and have been used with high frequency. The above pictures show students using them during study hall (left) and during a 6th grade research lesson (right). I am so appreciative of the generosity of the Schools Trust and am thrilled that I am able to include more diverse seating in the library which provides an opportunity for students and staff to move their legs during the school day. I do hope that you all can visit and see them in action some day!

with gratitude,
